

of foreign policy
 other matters that considerable com-
 on Cambodia by the
 gent.
 he did not outline
 actions and plans or hem what he intended
 the spokesman said.
 STATED at his home
 stal River, Fla., the fal said the President
 med the group that he made a decision but not disclose what the
 ion was or when it
 d be revealed
 on called the organiza-
 leaders together, ac-g to Smedberg, be-
 he wanted their sup-
 in the days to come
 the night of Nixon's wide speech, two
 before it was deliv-
 the original group
 others for a total of 50 persons, were
 ght to a federal build-cross from the White
 e and briefed on what President had planned

ravn
 rm
 of the study now being ed is "to find out
 e we failed this time
 what mistakes we

ummer classes are iled to begin June 22.
 UC Parents' Club an-
 dinner and theater
 will be held tonight
 e Great Hall of Tange-University Center.
 er will begin at 6 p.m.
 William R. Nester,
 provost for student
 will discuss the
 ne of the university.
 UC Mimmers Guild
 present "A Man for seasons" in Wilson Au-
 um after the dinner.
 dinner was origin-
 scheduled for May 14.

AN ERNEST G.
 of Raymond Wal-
 Branch of UC, has set examinations, equal
 r hourly test, during appropriate classes
 week.
 any time prior to the examination, he said.
 ident may elect to re-
 a grade of S (satisfying) or F (failing) based his academic per-nance so far. Neither
 d affect the student's ous grade point aver-
 but an S grade would
 ly successful comple-
 of the course with the
 opriate credit hours
 ed.
 udents wishing to re-
 a regular letter
 e which will carry
 ity points and would
 e grade point average,
 it remain in class and
 plete class work for quarter which will end 28.

at wave tolls

Colerain sewer pollution

Odor angers residents

PUMPING OPERATION AT RUMPKLE DUMP LAGOON

Sewer gas is causing monumental odor problems and an angry mood among residents along Struble road in Colerain Township.

The odor, which is becoming increasingly stronger during the warm weather, is centered around the Metropolitan Sewer District trunkline, which is receiving wastewaters from a large lagoon at Rumpke's Dump.

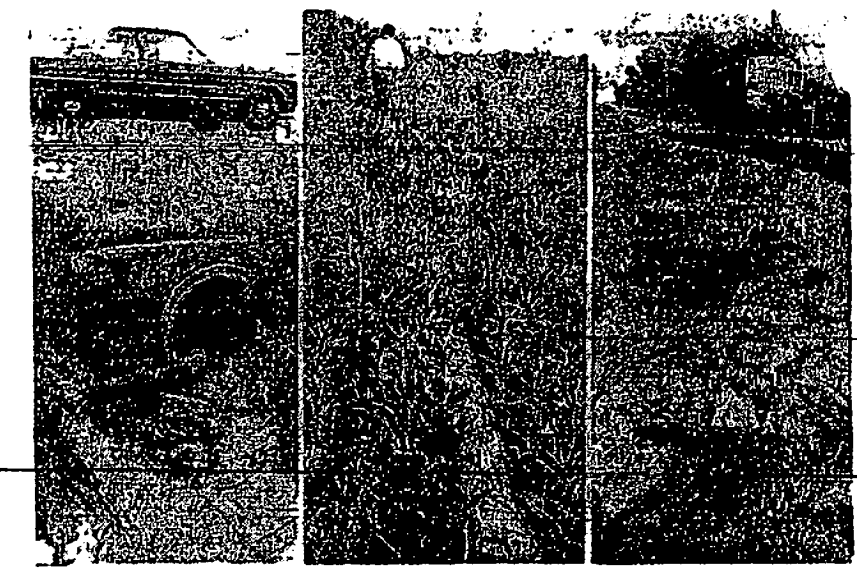

Hamilton County sanitation officials are at a loss to explain the origin of the gas, but the pump draining the dump's 109-million-gallon lagoon was ordered shut down yesterday morning until studies determine the cause.

Residents in the two-block area, say the stench was first noticed in February and is steadily getting worse.

ON TUESDAY and Wednesday mornings, the odor was overpowering at the site of the manhole into which the Rumpke pipeline empties, and was noticeable more than a block away.

The County Sanitation Department recently sealed two of the three manhole covers on the short trunkline with plastic wrapping and cement to prevent odor seepage.

Alan Montague, chief sanitarian and assistant Rumpke pipeline through field into the Struble road sewer connection and sealed manhole cover.

viser to Rumpke, said the pumping rate is down to less than 100,000 gallons a day.
 The pumping operation, which William Rumpke, Jr., son of the dump operator, said was suggested by a member of the Ohio Department of Health, who has since denied making the suggestion, was shut down for two weeks last month during a fishkill investigation and was set back through a wooded area and open field to the sewer.

 Rumpke places the blame of the chemical problem squarely on the lap of the Apex Corp., which was formed by several industries using the dump to develop a solution for pre-treatment of the chemicals.
 "They've been sitting on their haunches and doing nothing," Rumpke said.

Mrs. James Noelker, of 3223 Struble, two doors away from the manhole site, is even angrier. She spoke of organizing the neighbors to "get through the county bureaucracy or bypass it and go to the congressmen."
 "All we're going to say out here isn't going to do any good until we get rid of the deadwood in county government," Mrs. Noelker said.

Economic meet called

Nixon sum head of N. Stock Exch

WASHINGTON
 President Nixon chairman Bern... of the New York change to the V today—less than after news that living rose again and the stock to its lowest po years.

Democrat chairman La O'Brien attack economic polici called "Nixon made it plain crats will stress the economy in election camp; "Nixonomics all the things go up—the st corporate spendable inco tivity—go down things that shou —unemployment interest rates O'Brien said

THE LABOR MENT reported living index re 0.6 per cent in per cent of average. This r $13.40 in April same goods at that could hav tained for $13. and $10 a little decade ago.

The index fo 6 per cent hig was a year ago rose 0.5 per cent.
 The price of 0.3 per cent in housing increa cent: clothing, C transportation, cent: health and 0.6 per cent.

Nixon's deput retary, Gerald V the White Hou appointed" at li He said the rate in the cost of li the seasonally-a ures—had slow in the first thre this year.

"Of course, House is disap the reversal of that had been the past thre Warren said. "This reversal to rary"

The key Do dust rial sto dropped 14.84 a seven-year low

PHOTOS BY JACK KLING